To whom it may concern:

We engaged Rob Nelson of Averabet Consulting to install an automated telemarketing dialer (predictive dialing) system using software he installed and configured. Rob also located the required SIP vendor to serve NOW Home Building's interests at the best cost. Rob was committed to successful completion of this fixed cost contract and did not rest until he had met our requirements.

The implementation of this system had been a goal of our organization for some time. I chose Rob and Averabet because of his trustworthy nature and his technical expertise. I received several proposals and Rob was the only agent who was willing to fully explain the different configurations of VOIP communication.

I highly recommend Rob and endorse his quality of work, dedication and professionalism. He has extensive business knowledge and has made several recommendations to improve our operations.

Sincerely,

Ray Dault
President
Now Home Building, Inc.
